

Petroleum Equipment Installer / Service Technician Level One Common-Core Apprenticeship Technical Training

FILL-UP YOUR KNOWLEDGE & GET GOVERNMENT CERTIFIED

The Piping Industry Apprenticeship Board is proud to announce the official pilot launch of the petroleum equipment installer / service technician level one common-core apprenticeship technical training; which we will be offering as an eight week course in the fall of 2011.

Start date: Monday, October 31st 2011

End date: Friday, December 23rd 2011

Classes will run from Monday through to Friday of each week (excluding holidays), from 07h00 to 14h00 each day. Two fifteen minute breaks and one half hour lunch are scheduled daily.

The recommended prerequisite for this course is grade ten or equivalent, particularly in English, math, and science; grade twelve graduation is preferred. Sponsorship as a registered apprentice is required for eligibility to take this pilot. For more information on sponsorship please contact Shane Richardson at the PIAB.

During this level one technical training individuals will be exposed to both theoretical and practical training in the following topics:

- Applying safe work practices;
- Using tools and equipment;
- Organising work;
- Maintaining environmental standards;
- Installing/removing storage tanks;
- Installing/removing piping systems and monitoring systems; and
- Installing/removing/maintaining pumps and dispensers.
